Living information in KMU

Climate

Taiwan enjoys warm weather all year round. Weather conditions fluctuate during spring and winter, while in summer and autumns, the weather is relatively stable. The annual average temperature is at 22 degrees Celsius, a comfortable condition, with the lowest temperatures on the lowlands generally ranging from 12 to 17 degrees Celsius (54-63 Fahrenheit). Therefore, with the exception of a few mountainous areas where some traces of snow can be found during winter, no snow can be seen in Taiwan. During the raining season (March to May), continuously drizzling rain will sometimes fall on Taiwan. When visiting Taiwan during this period, remember to carry an umbrella at all time. Although it might seem romantic to have a stroll in the rain, it is no fun to travel when you're soaking wet. During the summer time (June to August), typhoons sometimes approach or hit the country.

Voltage

Electricity in Taiwan is 110 volts, alternating at 60 cycles per second. If you come to Taiwan with a device that does not accept 110 volts at 60 Hertz, you will need a voltage converter. There are three main types of voltage converter. Resistor-network converters will usually be advertised as supporting something like 50-1600 watts. They are light-weight and support high-wattage electrical appliances like hair dryers and irons. However, they can only be used for short periods of time and are not ideal for digital devices. Transformers will have a much lower maximum Watt rating, usually 50 or 100. Transformers can often be used continuously and provide better electricity for low wattage appliances like battery chargers, radios, laptop computers, cameras, mp3 players and camcorders. However, they are heavy because they contain large iron rods and lots of copper wire. Some companies sell combination converters that include both a resistor network and a transformer in the same package. This kind of converter will usually come with a switch that switches between the two modes. If you absolutely need both types of converter, then this is the type to buy.

Taiwan Plug Adapters and Outlet Shapes

Outlets in Taiwan generally accept this type of plug Flat blade plug

If your appliance has a different shape of plug, you may need a plug adapter.

Time Zone

UTC +8:00

Currency Exchange

If you want to exchange currency, you need to bring the required certificates to banks or post office

1. Required Certificates: Passport
2. Commission charge and the USD/NT, EUR/NT, or JPY/NT exchange rates will be a little bit different from different banks and post office.
